Computer Science Engineering Student | Passionate About Tech & Innovation | Open to Learning & Collaboration

Bengaluru, Karnataka, India

Summary

I am a second -year engineering student passionate about technology, problem-solving, and software development. Currently, I am exploring different areas of tech, including cloud computing, development, to build a strong foundation.

I love learning by doing, and I'm eager to work on projects, collaborate with peers, and gain real-world experience. My goal is to continuously grow and discover which area of technology excites me the most.
